Process:

1. I work from photos or videos: the more material you provide, the easier and faster my process. You can send me links to online albums, archive, files or use services such as WeTransfer (use commision@sophieleblanc.com).
2. Feel free to give me pointers to your preferred paintings among my collections.
3. After reviewing your photos/videos, you'll need to buy a Study-Ticket on my online shop (here). Once this purchase is made I will commence work on your painting and send you back a rough composition/montage in the following 2 weeks.
4. Once we agree on the subject and the composition then we will review together the first two preliminary drafts of the painting. From then onward, I will immerse in my creative process without input. You will see the final work upon completion.

Process Fees and Rights

Initial fees: I ask a $50 fee to start to work on a draft-proposal. Please buy the Study-Ticket on my online shop here. These fees are deducted from the prices listed above if you are ordering the final artwork.

If you decide to not order the final piece, you then abandon all rights on my work and allow me to promote and sell the painting to whomever I see fit.

Schedule

Delays can vary from 1 to 6 months for the delivery of one piece, depending on the size of the painting and the period of the year. Please contact me asap if you need a rough estimation of the delays before buying my Study-Ticket (see above). I may be able to provide faster delivery for urgent occasions at an extra cost. Please inquire.
